Yana Aleksandrova - Meeting Facilitator

o Weekly Summary - Both sides of the team were able to fine tune their parts of the project in time for the presentation at PerCom. Due to the implications of the COVID-19 pandemic, the conference was moved to a virtual presentation. In the presentation, members went over the project we worked on in the first half of the semester. They also answered any questions that were brought up after the presentation. The team also worked on peer evaluations to help everyone improve their final presentations. The presentation was also worked on to make any changes from the prior week of fine-tuning before the conference.

o Past week accomplishments -

Yana: As our project was wrapped up everything in that regard was finished. Peer evaluation components were worked on in the meantime before focus turns to the final presentation.

Matthew Martin: Assisted in fine tuning the backend part of the project and ensuring front-to-end flow for the application. Made sure this was all complete before our team had to present for the PerCom conference. Started to work on the final presentation for senior design.

Max Minard: Participated in the virtual presentation of our project for the annual PerCom Conference. Created a demo video for a simple use case of the mobile application and geotracking functionalities.

Smruthi Sandhanam: Completed presentation virtually for PerCom Conference. Created demo video for the conference as well. Helped answer questions and present. Started to work on the final presentation for Senior Design.

Amiah Gooding: Create competition online poster. Have made modifications to the competition poster to better fit the final presentation format.

Travis Stanger: Participated in the virtual PerCom 2020 demo. Starting work on final presentation.
